

Trends and development paths for the supply chain of the future workshop

BRIEF DESCRIPTION

The main objective of this workshop is to bring together a group of experts, both industrialists and academics, in order to discuss major trends and challenges (e.g. technological, environmental etc.) for the development of future supply chains in the manufacturing, distribution and process industries.

Moreover the workshop will give the possibility to discuss which can be the development paths for the most important trends.

CONTACT

- Rosanna Fornasiero (CNR)
rosanna.fornasiero@itia.cnr.it
- Luk Aerts (PNO)
Luk.Aerts@pnoconsultants.com

FEBRUARY

21 2018

Avenue de la Joyeuse Entrée 1, 1040, Brussels

Find more information on the projects:

www.nextnetproject.eu

www.inspire-eu-project.eu/

this event is by invitation only, to confirm participation, please:

Register here

AGENDA

- | | |
|---------------|---|
| 14:00 | Welcome Coffee |
| 14:15 – 14:30 | Welcome and Introduction
Rosanna Fornasiero (CNR-ITIA), Luk Aerts (PNO) |
| 14:30 – 14:50 | Trends and Megatrends Influencing Supply Chain of the Future
Ana C. Barros (Inesc Tec) |
| 14:50 – 15:10 | Data Sovereignty in Networked Production
Thorsten Huelsmann (Industrial Data Space) |
| 15:10 – 15:30 | Future Scenarios for Distribution and Logistics
Fernando Liesa (ALICE) |
| 15:30 – 16:00 | Sustainable Manufacturing Networks in a Circular Economy
Konstantinos Georgoulia (University of Patras - LMS) |
| 16:00 – 16:20 | New Business Model for Process Industry
Ron Weerdmeester (PNO Consultants) |
| 16:20 – 16:30 | Trends and the Definition of Development Paths: Introduction
Saskia Sardesai (Fraunhofer – IML) |
| 16:30 – 17:30 | How to Create Development Paths: Brainstorming Session
Working groups |
| 17:30 – 17:45 | Wrap-up and Closing Remarks |
| 18:00 | Closing the Meeting |